
Do you participate on the coming election or not?

Posted by Addire - 2008/03/14 16:28

Since the election on may 2005, many of my friends dont want to register for the reason that they dont belive anyone anymore. Yet some registered and some still quit even the registration.

My question do you think this is a solution?

And if not what is your proposal for the coming election?

Finally what is the ultimate:unsure: solution regarding for all the elections coming by?

Thanks.

Yes, I will register and vote only on one condition, that is if the National Election Board is outsourced to one of the Russian agencies that made Putin give up his power and made him assume the "less" coveted position of a Prime Minister!
